Clinics

To be set after there are four (4) or more people who sign up. Initial classes will be for uncontested dissolution actions in which there are no children of the marriage and minimal or no assets or debts.

These clinics give those folks who prefer to “do-it-yourself” the chance to complete the legal forms with guidance from the attorney. There is no attorney-client relationship that attaches to any of the attendees.

Clinics later (expected to start in 2012) will include classes for child support modification actions as well as small claims processes.
